

CommerceStyle Refresh

We're working on an update/refresh of the content for CommerceStyle. Read more to find out.

Basically CommerceStyle hasn't got the attention it's needed or required in the last year. I run this site on my own as a side project. I work a full time job in the e-commerce industry and just wanted to place to share what I've learned with others who have similar interests. I figured the site would just consist of some basic tutorials and articles on e-commerce topics. Then a month or so after launching the site I decided to create the shopping cart directory. I've spent lots and lots of time working with a lot of the shopping cart systems out there on the market today so I thought it would be a good idea to share some of the things I've learned with others who are in the market for a new e-commerce platform. In the end it was all just too much work to tackle with my day to day responsibilities, so I ended up not updating as much as I needed. Well I've been working on a way to restructure the content into a way that will be easier for me to update.

I'm going to be posting a lot more quick tips and 'll be working behind the scenes to make the shopping cart directory what it should have been in the first place. I also plan to work on getting some interviews with industry leading developers and CEO's to share their experience with the people who are new to e-commerce.

In the mean time. If anyone has any content suggestions or submissitons feel free to contact me.

See you soon.
